COMMUNICATED. LIFE INSURANCE, &c. - Please publish the following remarks on the subject of Issurance, from the Baltimore Sun, and oblige A MERCHANT.

There is one almost universal feeling in the community in regard to the mauner in which the business of life insurance is too often conducted. Such is the anxiety of the companies and their agents to extend their business that culpable carelessness is frequently exhibited by both in regard to the risks which they run and the nature of the lives they insure. Constant personal solicitation seems to be the principle upon which they act. On the trains and in travelling the 'accident-policy' man has become a rival nuisance to the "prize-candy-packboy. On the street, in the counting room and the office, the question, "Are you insured?" is sounded in the ear or meets the eye at every turn. It you want a blotter, a paperweight or a ruler for your desk, a lead-pencil to make a memorandum, or tablet on which to make it, some obliging insurance agent at your elbow is ready to make you a present of either, neatly stamped with the name of his company and the inducements it offers to persons about to insure. The applications which are made for insurance and which are forwarded to the companies, are notoriously filled up, and the answers to the printed questions written but, in the great majority of cases, under the personal supervision of the canvassers or agents through whose efforts and by whose solicitation the applications are obtained. The interests of the company and of the agent work to gether to facilitate the acceptance of the risk. Facts which plainly and truthfully stated, might cause the application to be rejected, are often softened down or omitted at the suggestion of the agent, or withheld by him for some reason. It is true that the companies, particularly if at a distance, may be and generally are ignorant of the particular misrepresentations or. concealments which the applications contain, and may be thus led into taking risks which with a full knowledge of the facts, they would have rejected. But the system of conducting business which facilitates and encourages such trauds, the greediness and competition for business, and the large commissions offered to stimulate the zeal of solicitors and canvassers are all theirs, and the agents are of their selection, and if, blindly shutting their eyes to the fruits of their own policy, the companies take unsafe and improper risks, and pocket the premiums as long as the parties live to pay them, and then, when they die, seek to escape payment of the loss upon the ground that they were imposed upon in the application, the comany degree parties to it, they certainly have little pretense in equity or sound morals to make their own cupidity and carelessness a shield to protect them from responsibility. At the same time, no doubt frauds upon insurance companies, when detected and established by proof, ought to be severely punished, and the mere loss of the possible fruits of fraud in such cases would hardly seem to be punishment enough. The perpetrators, when practicable, should be amenable to criminal prosecution.

[COMMUNICATED. DELEGATED RIGHTS .- By J. B. Johnson .-A wise legislator prefers those plans of legislation which seek to harmonize the difference in the various branches of human industry, rather than those which have for their object the creation of class distinctions, and which, by implied or expressed intentions, give to one trade or branch of commerce, advantages over another. He finds nothing so conducive to this feeling, or so adequate to avoid answers to invitations to hasty and inconsiderate action, as slow and careful consideration of measures presented for his acceptance or rejection; for he is always apprehensive that hasty legislation not only begets dissatisfaction, but opens the way to latitudinarian legislative conduct which he knows. is more easily inaugurated, than arrested after it is once started. He is aware too, that from class legislation, springs all the evil of delibera-tive bodies; and that it allures the mind of the legislator from the common welfare of his constituents, and entices him to use his vote in behalf of the interest of a selfish few. Hence, however obscure a law-making assembly may be, and however short it may be to gratify an honest man's most distant ambition, or flatter his remotest vanity, his duty is still that of an agent or trustee, acting as the sworn representative of the interest of the whole people in whose good such an assembly was originated, and not the mere automaton to be swayed by the specious promises of any individual or individuals that, if certain franchises are granted him or them great gain will result to the body politic, and upon such superficial inducement go into ecstasy over a mere promise, or be carried away by representations based upon the flatus of a conjecture. Such being his understanding of the province of a representative, he never fails to deem it his positive duty to be careful not to vote on any measure without first making an intelligent examination of it in its every view, and to be very charry not to vote for those subjects which are intended to benefit a special class without good commensurate with the welfare of every class whose interest is alike entitled to the conservatism of his vote, and he does not give his support to any question that has not an equal bearing on every variety of the subjects to which it appertains, nor yields his assent to a legislation beyond what is common to the duty of the position which he holds, and has not the sympathy of the kindred class or variety of the subjects to which it relates. Therefore, from his stand point, he readily appreciates the evil of class, or special legislation as ever likely to inaugurate a policy which is not only apt to prove unwise as a custom and detrimental as a system, but injurious in the extreme as a practice, and as productive of a chain of evils too disastrous in their commercial and social influence, to be even meditated in view of the clamor with which each business or official position, would demand protection in the form of an adroit act, cunningly worded to conceal its personal or selfish designs.

DR. JOHNSTON, Physician of this celebrated institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effectual Remedy in the world for ail DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE. Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, tary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembing, Dimness of Sight, or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the songs of the Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, &c. YOUNG MEN. Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, and dreadful and destructive habits which annually sweep to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most ex-alted alents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to extact the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE. Married persons, or Young Men contemplat-ing marriage, aware of Physical Weakness Loss of Procreative Power-Impotency,) Ner-vous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weak-ness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disquali-fection areadily religious. fication, speedily relieved.

He who places himself under the care of Dr J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS. Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored. This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into insproper habits than by the prudent. Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Loss of Procreative Power Nervous, Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death. A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAY Relief in Six Hours! No Mercury!

Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poison, should apply immediately.

Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most emment Colleges in the United States, and the greate part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and alanwhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sound, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marfects produced by the early habits of youth, viz Weakness of the Back and Limos, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symtoms of Consump-MENTALLY.-T e fearful effects on the mind

These are some of the sad and melancholy af-are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Fore-bodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Leve of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply im mediately. What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in permisions habits. Such persons must, before comtemplat-

MARRIAGE Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote communal happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own. DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votery of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the souls of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from elu-cation and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of the horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns." whence no traveller returns.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufficients the formula taking their navious of ferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being re stored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness in despair leaves him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment. DR. JOHNSTON OFFICE No. 7, SOUTH FREDERICK STREET BALTIMORE, MD.
